Total Rehab Center Opens New, Larger Clinic with SKED Loan

Total Rehab Center co-owners Terry Randall and Jeff Parmelee are pictured in front of their new facility in Somerset, Ky.

Total Rehab Center partners Terry Randall and Jeff Parmelee can testify that bigger really is better when it comes to growing their rehabilitation business. Total Rehab Center opened its new 10,984 square-foot facility in MedPark West this spring, thanks to an SBA 504 Loan. The new clinic provides its staff more room to work and state-of-the-art rehabilitation services to the region.

"We've had very positive responses from the community and patients," Randall said. "It is obvious to those who see our clinic that we take rehabilitation very seriously. Orthopaedic surgeons have told us they have seen nothing comparable in Kentucky."
